SAYS REPUBLICANS HAVE THE ADMINISTRATION ON DEFENSIVE

Prescott, Ariz., June 19.—Most of the leaders of the Progressive party have already come out for Hughes and the New York man is certain to be backed by a united party, according to Leror Anderson, leading attorney of Roosevelt and delegate to the Republican national convention.

"I am very much pleased with the vigorous manner in which Hughes has taken up the issues and jumped into the presidential campaign," said Mr. Anderson, upon his return from Chicago. "Hughes is American in every way. We do not want a partisan, un-American candidate on the Republican ticket."

"A splendid thing about the Republican party this year is that its leaders have the courage to hold the convention prior to the Democratic convocation in St. Louis. The Republicans met first and have taken a positive stand on all national American principles. They have the administration on the defensive."

"The platform framed at St. Louis is not only on the defensive, but is an apology for the things the administration has not accomplished. It does not stand for anything definite."

SYRACUSE WINS JUNIOR EIGHTS

At Half Mile Mark Syracuse and Cornell Were Fighting for Lead.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 17.—Syracuse won the two-mile varsity race for Junior eights on the Poughkeepsie course today. One length behind the winner was Cornell. Columbia was third, and Pennsylvania fourth.

The official times were: Syracuse, 11:52-5; Cornell, 11:59-5; Columbia, 11:52; Pennsylvania, 12:04-5.

There was a stiff upstream breeze at 4:12 p. m. when the Junior varsity eights got off to a good start in their two-mile race, the opening event of the regatta. The water was just beginning to break into white caps as Columbia took the lead in the first spurt from the stakeholders.

Close on Half Mile.

At the half mile mark Syracuse and Cornell were fighting for the lead. Gradually Courtney's pupils began to pull at a strong stroke, with Syracuse having a length on the rear.

Columbia was third and Pennsylvania a bad last out on the outside course. Passing under the bridge, Syracuse lifted its stroke and began to creep upon Cornell. Syracuse held her spurt and steadily drove her shell between the shells at the finish.

Pennsylvania Far Behind.

Columbia was six lengths behind the winner, and Pennsylvania, who left the bulk of its $25,000 estate to the city for the erection of an ornamental arch in the civic center, was upped by county judge Rothgerber today. The court held, however, that the heirs at law could claim the estate should an agreement not be reached in the matters of selection of a site and designs for the monument.
